A Heritage in the Glass

The Gelber Muskateller is not a modern breeding, but one of the oldest and noblest grape varieties in the world. Its roots reach back thousands of years to antiquity and have significantly co-founded the wine culture of Europe.

We pay respect to this historical heritage and transport it with the vintage 2024 into the modern Palatinate. It is a masterful interpretation to unite the incomparable aromatics of the Muskateller grape with the fresh, clear signature of our winery.

The Aromatic Profile: Unmistakably Muskateller

This wine is a clear commitment to the grape variety. It shows itself in a radiant light yellow with golden reflections and immediately reveals a characteristic, intense bouquet:

- Blossoms: Intense scent of elderflower and roses.
- Fruit: Exotic notes of lychee, passion fruit, and ripe peach.
- Spice: The typical, name-giving nutmeg note that gives the wine depth.

On the Palate: The Perfect Balance (feinherb)

The true art of this wine lies in its classification as "off-dry" (feinherb), which guarantees a masterful interplay of sweetness and acidity. The moderate residual sweetness (8,2 g/l) ensures a juicy start and a pleasant melt that carries the exotic fruit and makes the wine charming. The lively acidity (6,0 g/l) provides the decisive counterweight, lends structure, and ensures an animating, clear finish. A fine, delicate mousse, the result of gentle vinification, additionally underscores the liveliness.

Enjoyment with Lightness and Versatility

An outstanding feature is the impressive lightness. With only 10,5 % vol. alcohol, it is the ideal wine for conscious enjoyment. It refreshes without weighing down and inevitably invites to a second glass through its animating nature.

This wine is a versatile talent: It shines as an aromatic aperitif or as an excellent companion to spicy dishes of Asian cuisine, to light summer salads, or to mild goat cheese.

The vintage 2024 is now at the peak of its youthful freshness. If you are looking for a white wine that inspires aromatically, tells a fascinating history, and provides pure drinking pleasure, the Hörner Gelber Muskateller is the perfect choice. Secure this aromatic ambassador of the Palatinate now.
